“The small print”

Organisation of this retreat is made in good faith with the desire to share some of the magical work that Ad Brugman has to offer. However sometimes arrangements change due to circumstances beyond our control; we therefore ask that you remain flexible & aware of the following.

Weather conditions are unpredictable. The organisers take no responsibility for circumstances where extra costs are incurred by participants due to adverse weather conditions, ferry delays or cancellations.

The organisers take no responsibility for injury, loss or damage to persons, property or goods during the retreat or journeying to & from Holy Island.

Deposits & payments are non-refundable. It is advisable to insure against cancellation due to unforeseen circumstances.

Deposits will be refunded though if Ad has to cancel the event due to low numbers of participants or his health.

It is important that you declare on your application form any medical conditions which may affect you during the retreat.

The Holy Island Project asks that you read & respect the following as a visitor to the Island:

To show respect for others & ourselves & to protect Holy Island as a sacred space devoted to Spiritual development, it is requested that all those who visit or stay there follow these 5 golden rules:-

- To protect life & refrain from killing
- To respect others property & refrain from stealing
- To speak the truth & refrain from lying
- To encourage health & refrain from all intoxicants including alcohol & cigarettes
- To respect others & refrain from sexual misconduct

Many thanks , Blessings
